

Hermann Boeddinghaus

Called: 1996

Areas of Practice

Hermann Boeddinghaus specialises in company law, corporate and personal insolvency, banking and finance, professional negligence, and all aspects of civil fraud and asset recovery (where he has represented two Commonwealth States in major asset recovery claims against the families of former rulers, as well as liquidators, banks and others).

He has substantial litigation experience, and has a particular interest in cases involving allegations of complex financial fraud. In recent years he has also developed an extensive advisory practice, with an emphasis on company (and corporate insolvency) law.

Hermann's litigation practice is based principally in the Chancery Division, though he also regularly appears in the Commercial Court and the QBD. He is frequently instructed in High Court commercial disputes having a connection with Germany, acting either for or against German parties.

Notes

Born 1967. Married (4 children).

Educated University of Cape Town (BSc in Medicine) and Magdalen College, Oxford (MA Jurisprudence, BCL).

Hermann was a member of the prestigious Studienstiftung des deutschen Volkes (Germany's foremost scholarship foundation) while at Oxford, and a Kennedy Scholar of Lincoln's Inn.

Hermann has been recommended as a junior in both of the leading legal directories, where he has been described as "extremely user-friendly; thorough, with an excellent grasp of complex detail" (the Legal 500), "highly rated" (Chambers & Partners) and as having a "low-key, but tough and intellectually rigorous style ... very much to the liking of his clients" (Chambers & Partners).

Hermann qualified in 1996 as a solicitor with Slaughter and May. While doing this, he taught Contract Law and Tort part time at Wadham College, Oxford and at the School of Law, King's College, London.

He is a member of the Chancery Bar Association, COMBAR, and the British South African Lawyers Association.
